■ Stepping out of one's comfort zone can be a good thing sometimes, and here at the American Academy of Periodontology 105th annual meeting, there are plenty of opportunities to try things you never have before.

Want to get more in touch with your creative side? Head over to the Perio Park (booth No. 150) and unleash your Chicago-inspired inner graffiti artist at the Graffiti Wall set up for attendees to take a break from all the analytical thinking and express a bit more righthemisphere creativity. (You can also take a moment to relax, continue conversations with colleagues, charge electronic devices and buy some food and beverages while you are there.)

Want to take a new look at solving old problems? Many of the exhibitors are offering new products and technology that do just that.

Place your bids for the AAP Foundation's silent auction

If you haven't yet had a chance to check out the AAP Foundation's silent auction, and maybe cast a bid or four, there is still time.

Join the AAP Foundation at its booth in the registration area today to learn more about the foundation's work, bid on the silent auction and celebrate the organization's 29 years of service to the specialty.

While there, you can also enter raffles, score giveaways, snap a selfie and more.

The AAP Foundation booth will be open until 5 p.m. today, and from 7:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday.

For those who can't make it over to the AAP Foundation area, the silent auction bidding is being done online. Bid from your smartphone or computer, with no app needed. You'll even get a text if you've been outbid.

The AAP Foundation has more than 100 products and services to bid on, from dental equipment to unique fashion accessories to hotel stays. Text AAPF to 52182 to browse.
