Cornering the market

■ Have you covered every corner of the exhibit hall at CDA Presents The Art and Science of Dentistry? It's no easy task considering the array of new products, innovative advancements and show specials enticing attendees at virtually every booth.

So in case you haven't made it to every corner, here's some help.

If you walk into the exhibit hall and take a sharp right to get to the far front corner, you end up at booth No. 203, where the folks at DoWell Dental Products are ready to tell you about their display of dental instruments.

There are several show specials on some of the company's most popular offerings, including the Blue Line Perio Surgical Kit designed by Dr. Maurice Salama, along with Dr. Salama's Extraction Kit. Kazu Tanji of DoWell said the corner location was working well for the company, with a

The butterfly effect

By Robert Selleck, today Staff

■ The educational anchor in the exhibit hall, The Spot, was standing-room only throughout the day on Friday, but across the floor, another opportunity was also attracting a steady flow of drop-in traffic, with an invitation that was hard to decline: Take a seat for a bit and depart with some valuable knowledge and a C.E. credit.

The Corporate Forum, sponsored by Air Techniques (in the 2600 aisle), has featured a series of non-ticketed, one-hour lectures throughout the meeting — and they are still going today. Just make sure one of the "Monarch" butterflies scans your name badge before you enter.

The topics are diverse, including today's sessions: fluorescence and imaging technologies; environmental surface management; getting the most out of your utility room products; and state-of-the-art digital diagnostics of conditions such as caries and oral cancer.

• Kazu Tanji with DoWell Dental Products has a show special on the Blue Line Perio Surgical Kit and Extraction Kit designed by Dr. Maurice Salama, in booth No. 203.

steady stream of traffic on both Thursday and Friday.

After DoWell, if you head back as far as you can to the end of the aisle at the back far right corner of the exhibit hall, you come to Springstone Financial in booth No. 385. Perhaps because of the nearby lounge area, or maybe just because attendees seem to be walking up and down every aisle of the hall regardless of location, the Springstone booth, too, reported steady business. Further enticing wanderers to stop for a minute was a package of a dozen Titleist Pro VI golf balls, ready to be handed out to anybody signing up with Springstone at the meeting for its patient financing services.

Next, head for the far back left corner, where the last occupied booth (No. 2653) is promoting the 65th annual meeting of the Colegio de Odontólogos de Tijuana, which, along with the Mexican Dental Association (Asociación Dental Mexicana), is presenting LXV Reunión Dental Provincia 2015, from May 21-23, in Tijuana, Mexico.

The representatives in the booth are handing out various candies to promote the event, and they also have a “passport” filled with information about dining, entertainment and shopping in Tijuana. The meeting will feature sessions on all aspects of dentistry and includes real-time translation services in English and Portuguese for those who do not understand Spanish. Some sessions are presented in those languages, too.

The last corner to cover, at the far left front when you enter the exhibit hall, brings you to Parnell Pharmaceuticals in booth No. 2619. There you can speak with Francis Parnell, MD, the creator of Mouth Kote and Mouth Kote-R. The CDA Presents meeting marks the first time that

• Deb Marciello and Chris Johnson with Springstone Financial (booth No. 385) can help you learn more about patient financing programs (and you might even leave with a dozen Titleist golf balls).

Mouth Kote-R has been offered. The unique rinse for dry mouth has been shown to remineralize and restore enamel and protect against tooth decay. The booth seems to always be busy, perhaps because more than 400 medications being prescribed these days can cause dry mouth, according to Parnell.

Today is your final chance to explore every corner of the entire exhibit hall – with the biggest challenge being to not stop at all the temptations along your chosen route.

Whitening that works just how you want

By Sierra Rendon, today staff

■ Here at CDA Presents, Philips Zoom, the No. 1 patient-requested professional whitening brand, has redesigned its whitening formulas and created a line of custom-fit solutions for patients' individual needs.

With new Philips' Take-Home Whitening Kits, featuring five customized treatments, the company says it's never been easier to find the perfect whitening system for every patient – whether they want a gentle treatment or maximum shades fast.

New packaging clearly indicates formula differences, providing patients with a whitening experience that specifically suits their individual needs.

Here's a look at the new line of take-home whitening solutions by Philips:

- DayWhite Maximum White: The most dramatic results for a healthy, white smile. Used 15 minutes, twice a day.* Fourteen percent hydrogen peroxide.

- NiteWhite Maximum White: The most dramatic results for a healthy, white smile. Used overnight or two to four hours daily.* Sixteen percent carbamide peroxide.

- NiteWhite Quick 3-day: Just three days to a healthy, white smile. Used overnight or two to four hours daily. Twenty-two percent carbamide peroxide.

- DayWhite Gentle: The healthy, white treatment for sensitive teeth. Used once a day for 30 minutes.* Six percent hydrogen peroxide.

- DayWhite Touch-ups: For a lasting healthy, white smile between treatments. Used five to 10 minutes daily.* Nine and a half percent hydrogen peroxide.

According to the company, Philips Zoom Day-White and NiteWhite are the only take-home formulas with the power of three:

- ACP (amorphous calcium phosphate) to help protect enamel and reduce sensitivity.

- Potassium nitrate to help desensitize and maximize patient comfort.

- Fluoride shown to help prevent caries.

Dental professional pricing is $20.99 to $58.99, depending on the kit.

To learn more, visit www.philipsoralhealthcare.com or stop by the booth, No. 2218.
